

MIDWIFERY CAN BE A REWARDING HEALTH CARE CAREER

IT'S YOUR RIGHT!

Contact your elected representative at all levels of government and ask for the return of midwifery services and education programs to your community.

Inuit midwives provide safe and culturally competent care, and adhere to standards and principles of modern prenatal, obstetrical, and postnatal care for women and newborns.

Inuit midwives serve, mentor, and protect Inuit women and girls in their communities, and pass on traditional knowledge.

The return of sustainable and traditional Inuit practices and education programs is one of Pauktuutit's top priorities.
